Beau Learns Leash Skills

Beau* exhibited leash reactivity and a lack of focus on walks. His pet parent enrolled him in our day training program to help him learn new skills. Trainer, Jessica Tartaglia, took a methodical approach to first teaching Beau polite leash walking and engagement skills- then working on recall, and finally, introducing the practice of those behaviours in the vicinity of other dogs.

Once those behaviours were proofed, Beau was introduced to off-leash play sessions and learned to return to the trainer when he was unsure in situations. Beau continues to work with us as he's improved greatly and now is enrolled with his pet parent in our Foundations Tier 1 class.

Friskies Donation Helps Cats

Debbie, a member of Toronto Humane Society, received an email requesting donations for our food bank. She realized that the recently purchased trays of cat food in her house could be used. Her cat's vet had just changed her diet, and Debbie had 10 trays of her usual food left.

She happily drove from Aurora to donate the 10 trays of Friskies to Toronto Humane Society and witnessed first-hand the relief she was bringing to pet parents.

Unique pet parents were helped through our Pet Parent Support Network (PPSN)

This program takes a multi-disciplinary approach to provide services, support, and shelter to those in need of assistance to ensure that no human-animal bond is broken or fractured unnecessarily.

Giving Fluffy a Safe Place to Stay

A pet parent contacted the Pet Parent Support Network because she needed a crate for her cat, Fluffy*. They were staying in a women's shelter, and Fluffy was confined in a soft carrier.

Fluffy needed more space to move around and a litterbox to use. We had crates available and were able to provide one along with litter and food!

Fluffy's pet parent was very grateful and picked up the items right away.
